DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-2, drawn to a polypeptide.

Group II, claim(s) 3-5, 7, and 9, drawn to a polynucleotide, expression vector, a cell, and a kit comprising a polynucleotide.

Group III, claim(s) 6, drawn to antibody.

Group IV, claim(s) 8, drawn to a method for detecting rheumatoid arthritis comprising an assaying step and a nucleotide sequence.

Group IV, claim(s) 8, drawn to a method for detecting rheumatoid arthritis comprising an assay step and a polypeptide sequence.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features. According to PCT Rule 13.2, unit of invention exists only when a shared same or corresponding special technical feature is a contribution over the prior art. The technical feature, which is shared by Groups I-IV, is Seq Ids No. 1, 3, 5, 7, and 9. Groups I-IV do not share a special technical feature over the art because Genbank Accession Number AF212238 (March 2, 2001) teaches an isolated nucleic acid that is 99% identical to Seq ID No. 7 and would therefore hybridize to SEQ ID No. 7. Therefore Genebank Accession Number AF212238 teaches all the limitations of Claim 7. Claim 7 fails to make a contribution over the prior art; therefore, there is no special technical feature between Groups I-IV.

SEQUENCE RESTRICTION REQUIREMENT

3. Further Restriction Requirement: Additionally, each group named above is subject to further restriction. For any group drawn to a nucleic acid sequence or an amino acid sequence, the applicant must further select a nucleic acid or amino acid sequence. The SEQ IDs do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the description fails to disclose that all of the polynucleotides or polypeptides share a common property or activity.

Since the polynucleotides are not homologous to each other, they fail to share a common structure, i.e., a significant structural element. The sugar-phosphate backbone cannot be considered a significant structural element, since all nucleic acid molecules share it. Therefore, the polynucleotide and polypeptides molecules do not share any significant structural element and cannot be considered as having the same or corresponding technical feature.

The mere fact that polynucleotide or polypeptide fragments are derived from the same source (human genome) is not sufficient to meet the criteria for unity of invention. The polynucleotides fail to share a common property or activity and fail to share a common structure. Since neither of these two requirements is met, the group of polynucleotide or polypeptide molecules claimed does not meet the requirement of unity of invention.

4. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims.

Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re

Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Katherine Salmon whose telephone number is (571) 272-3316. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday 8AM-430PM.
